

Planning/Building FAQs

Related Questions

Do I need a permit to build a storage shed?

Building a storage shed? Sheds under 200 sq feet require a Type A permit. If you are building anything bigger you must get a structural permit from the city and follow city codes.

How often are backflow devices tested?

Backflow devices need to be tested yearly and the results submitted to the City. Call the City Shops for more information (503-769- 2860).

View All FAQ's